Cidade Universitária, Recife, Pernambuco, Brazil
CEP: 54740-540

- The applicant must have received a Ph.D. or D.Sc. degree in Computer Science or in related areas for at least ten years.

- A detailed description of the selection process as well as the complete set of the required documentation can be found at:

<http://goo.gl/qbjGTm>.

- The official instructions are written in Portuguese. However, here we provide a short guide in English for those who are interested in applying for the position. Although the official instruction is written in Portuguese, the selection process can be carried out in English. This means that both the work plan and presentation can be done either in English or in Portuguese according to the candidate's preference.

- The following documentation has to be presented with the application:

- a) It is necessary to fill and sign the form that can be downloaded from the aforementioned webpage address;
- b) Certified copy of the Ph.D. or D.Sc. diploma;
- c) Certified copy of an identification document (passport for foreigners);
- d) One printed copy and four digital copies (in non-rewritable digital media) of the CV. PDF formatting is required. The information listed in the CV must be verified with the presentation of the documents, and be organized following the instructions of the supplemental material, which can be downloaded from the webpage address mentioned above.
- e) Four printed copies and four digital copies (in non-rewritable digital media) of the career report. PDF formatting is required, limited to a maximum of 20 pages.
- f) Four printed copies and four digital copies (in non-rewritable digital media) of the research project, as specified in the supplemental material. PDF formatting is required.
- g) Payment of an application fee of R$ 300,00 (Brazilian currency). A proof that the payment was done should be included in the application.
- h) Copy of a document that attests the candidate's address for postal purposes. Important notice: the applicant who took his Ph. D. or D. Sc. degree at a non-Brazilian institution should submit for an official recognition within Brazilian institutions by the date the application for professorship is submitted.
